President's Message. . .

The 1976/77 school year has come to a close. To the students coming back, best of luck in the years to come, because they are the greatest. To the graduating class I wish good luck in all their hopes, dreams, and realities. On the Student's Union's behalf I would like to thank Mr. Klufas and Mr. Gainer for all their help, inspiration, and of course free advice. Also many thanks to the students of Bonnie Doon, for without them, my job wouldn't have been possible. Then to a very special teacher out of all the great teachers who helped, I would like to thank Mrs. Olynyk, my inspiration. This year has been an experience I'll never forget. I hope I meet as many wonderful people as I did this year in the years to come. Good luck to next year's executive, and good luck to a special bunch of people - the members of Bonnie Doon Student's Union.

Bonnie Doon's Music Department had a very active and successful year. It involved four concerts and they provided house entertainment for activities such as Graduation, the Year play, and other events.

The Stage Band was certainly exceptional in its endeavors. They captured first at the Provincial Stage Band Competition to go to the Nationals in Toronto and attain third place in the country.

The Music Department also went to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan for the Kinsmen International Band Festival where the Stage Band received second place. The Swing Choir, Wind Ensemble and Concert Choir also put in great effort and had a lot of fun. We wish them success in their future competitions.

Oh, Silver Bird

-Elaine Drochnau

Oh, Silver Bird from land afar, you are a MONSTER to my race.
When you are being fed <sup>suitcases</sup> <sup>bags</sup> and luggage of many numbers, and when You drink long gulps from gasoline hoses, why is it you still,
cry

hungrily for more?

When your massive wings heave up from the ground and you begin to moan and groan and complain of having to leave your roosting spot;
my ears tremble with your sounds.

The ground your feet rests upon SHAKES

greatly with your impatience.

And Then,

as if with no effort, you lift yourself and begin your travels suspended

in the sky yet moving speedily.
I have FEAR of you.

and try to hide myself when I see you coming.

You Carry People Away,
and when you are done with them,
you bring them home.

Oh, Silver MONSTER,

Why not me?

Battery powered and electronic
More useful than my stereophon-

It even has its own generator

What's in a Name

-Lois Schnell

"What's in a name?" is the old saying.
My name is Maria Domanich.
Today I spent looking for work.
Anything, anything at all would do.
As soon as they saw my name on the stark, white form
They quickly told me the job was filled.
They're sorry.

I'm sorry.

I must eat.
My family must eat.
What's in a name?

I say everything.

Faded

-Margo Valens

Flipping through my yearbook, seeing all the smiling faces, wonder if they're still smiling now?
Do they all have a job and a big blue car, a color TV and expensive stereo set?
Or are they not so fortunate,
have only an apartment,
a portable TV and a dirty old couch.
Funny how those faces in my yearbook are all faded now.

Give Him Time

-Cheryl Osberg

He's just sixteen and there he stands.
He's not a baby, nor a man.
He's all mixed and doesn't know why,
Too young to laugh, too old to cry.
He's there at the crossroads; he must go on
But he longs to turn to his arms.
Don't belittle him now, or laugh at his woe
But show him gently the way to go.
He has a great decision to make Don't rush him, he may make a mistake.
Shake his hand and treat him as a man
Don't give your advice, ask when you can.
Don't push him aside and call him a name
Like some people do, they call it a game.
He's growing up and it hurts a lot
Oh, you of sixty, have you forgot?
How it feels to be just a puzzled teen
The future ahead and all the things unseen?
Give him time, he'll make you proud
He'll stand out, a man in any crowd.
He'll take his place in a world of men.
Just give him time, he'll show us then.

Janet Anderson-

Upward

-Harvey Brauer

Helmet strapped tight
Boots laced on snug
Equipment checked,
Ruck - sack packed.
Harness tied,
Rope passed through

Hardware donned
We start.

The face towers overhead
To challenge any climber Hands grab hold

Boots feel their grip
The hammer bangs
And breaks the silence
Like thunder in the night.
Hands move upward
Feet, they follow
The rope, it drags along
The lifeline here to life.
The peak it looms
forever nearer.
Then one last push,
The top!

Castles

-Margo Valens

Went to the park the other day just to watch the children play in the warm sun.
One was off by himself,
freckled
and sunburned, nose running, making a castle.
He was talking to himself about all the fun he'd have when he got a new mom and dad.
A harried young woman came toward him, he looked up,

and was afraid.
She grabbed him by his little red sunburned arm,
not gently.
She yanked his tiny two year old body up out of the sand.
As I sat and watched
this miserable sight,
the child cried.
Mom kicked over his beautiful castle, shattered his dreams.

And for hours after she'd pulled him, screaming,
from the park;
I sat in the sandbox, and rebuilt a beautiful castle for all the Lost, hungry, afraid and unloved children, so they may keep their dreams.

May 17th marked another successful Bridge Building contest as Tim Talbot's winning bridge obtained a record quotient of 2210. Gary Krywiak and Chris Bowen placed second and third respectively.

THE FREE THROW COMPETITION was held in February this year, and involved students sponsoring teachers for the number of free throws made within a period of ten minutes. The crazy antics of some of the teachers (and cheerleaders) helped to raise money for equipment in the Physical Education Department.

Mr. Klufas Presents. . .

BACK ROW: Mr. Loehde, Mr. Stringham.

Principal's Message. . .

To you young ladies and gentlemen who in a very short 15 years or so, who in this brief span of time will be the new leaders of your country, I say enjoy your stay in your high school, Bonnie Doon; learn a bit about yourselves and allow other learning to be as gentle as the moonrise, because after all love, learning, and life is what education is all about.

Recently I came across a text in which Saint Paul was saying to the Romans, "Depending on the grace that God has conferred on us, we have different talents". This is still true today, only someone in World War I labelled it as intelligence - I prefer talent.

If I may list only the few of the different talents -
The PRACTICAL talent - feet in clay - common sense - would lead the list, although "dreaming" is important - I call this IMAGINATION.

Then the SOCIAL talent (the human field).

Of course, SCHOLASTIC talent should be on this list but we must not forget CLERICAL and MECHANICAL talents. I did not leave the ARTISTIC talents to the last deliberately because this is an open world and lasting.

Any of these talents could be alone or grouped in any one individual.

To you young ladies and gentlemen - discover your talents and develop them to the fullest for service to your fellow man. In other words, your contribution to this world.

On behalf of the staff at Bonnie Doon I wish you well.

W.J. Klufas,
Principal

Mr. Stratte is retiring this year after serving Bonnie Doon for the past eight years as 1st Assistant Principal. Bonnie Doon bids you farewell and good fortune in the future Mr. Stratte!

Class Historian ....

Ladies and Gentlemen, Teachers and Fellow Students:

As class historian it is my pleasure to give to you a brief summary of the special events that have happened over the last three years at Bonnie Doon. In the September of nineteen hundred and seventy-four, most of us entered the immaculate hallways of Bonnie Doon for our first time. We had yet to conquer this so called Establishment of Wisdom and Knowledge, where things like dances and frosh highlighted our after school activities, along with many other things, like football games - of all the spectators that attended only half knew that the 1974 Lancers had won Cities.

Moving on to volleyball, they also managed to win cities and provincials. The girls' volleyball team also won provincials in 1974.

And then there was the basketball team, well, they earned themselves honorable mention, but that's about all. When it came to music, Bonnie Doon did pretty well: the Music Dept. which upheld the honor that Bonnie Doon rightfully deserved, ended their season with a trip to Vancouver. When one mentions worthy of, I can't think of anything more worthy of than the name given to the drama production of "Screwtape." And that ended our Grade 10 year.

In 1975, our Grade 11 year, things were a little less hectic, it was nice to be able to find your classroom without getting lost. Once again football was upon us only this time they choked in the semi-finals. The volleyball team, that year under new management, won both cities and provincials.

In basketball, well we can only bow our heads in the remembrance of the gallant but worthless efforts. The Music Dept. made a fine showing in Moose Jaw that year, and the Fine Arts put on two productions; they were "White Sheep of the Family" and the "Werewolf" both courtesy of the students union.

And finally our last year at Bonnie Doon, 1976-1977, our graduating year. Now it was our turn to do the froshing, even at the expense of going to Kangaroo Court. Football got off to a good start that year, but they lost in the city finals.

Volleyball this year wasn't quite what it used to be, probably because the six year veterans finally graduated. But that didn't matter because this was the year for the girls, they went to both cities and provincials. I never mentioned the girls before, mainly because they weren't really worth mentioning, but they sure were this year. Basketball, well, what can I say, other than, there's always next year. The Music Dept. went to a band festival where they made a fine showing. The Drama Dept. put on two plays this final year, they were, "The Gift Giver" and the very recent musical "The Boyfriend." These last three years of high school, or for some of us, these last four or five, have been ones which we all will remember, and it is these years in which we owe our gratitude to all those who have made these last three years possible.

Thank you,
Bob Zimmerman

Good Evening Honored Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen, and Fellow Graduands.

Tonight is a very special time for many of us here. Our graduation is here--now--and we are being recognized for the point we have reached on our "Road of Experience." This point is unique, because our graduation is a big step forward on this road, where we pass from being students to young adults.

It's a little scary to have to realize that tonight is the official recognition of twelve years of experience in school. Our goal has finally become a reality--this is a moment we have worked twelve years for. We may feel apprehensive of what may lie ahead, but our graduation is actually a step out to discover and explore the vast spaces on the road ahead of us. The road leads us to a world where there is space to grow, space for us to learn, and space to share with others.

The space for growth has increased since we began school just twelve years ago. We began as children, looking for space in school where we met new people and friends, and a new world expanded and opened to us. Now we are young adults who have grown by encountering new experiences, and coming in contact with different ideas--we are learning to find out more about who we are. So we journey from here--looking for space to grow.

The past twelve years have also been space for learning. We've received guidance and direction from those older than we. Parents and teachers have travelled this road before, and their knowledge can guide us. We can now use our freedom to choose, to make decisions. We may win, and sometimes lose, but we will always learn. Like a kaleidoscope the picture keeps changing and we have to make it clear. We can bring problems into focus with concepts we have learned--making the haziness of growing up a little more clear.

From here, we venture out on our own, individually, but with the fun and friendships, memories and dreams that we share as our treasures. Our friends will be looking for their space as well, so it's up to all of us, together, to build this road of experience, as we each take our own direction in "looking for space."

Thank you.
